Diver, by Broadlook Technologies was built for the recruiter/researcher/sourcer/sales rep that uses search engines to find candidates and contacts. Part browser, part high speed information parser; Diver rips through search engine results and bring back contact, resume, and social network information.

Diver's built to work just like you do, using popular search engines as a data source. So, whether you merely "google for resumes" or you're a boolean string blackbelt, you can easily use Diver.

Diver then scans through each result link, and pulls out all contact, and resume information. You can then export the information to your CRM, ATS, or even Excel, or Outlook.

You can even save favorite searches as 'bookmarks' and run them on a continual basis.

Take Action. Contact us today to see an online demonstration.
